Cheaper Money
Bank Stocks
Women's Colleges Starved
3,000 Automobile Deaths

Money was cheaper for all purposes, real business or Wall Street bargain buying.

Wise bankers will pass on to industry and business the benefit of the federal reserve discount cut.

In October this country sold to other countries merchandise amounting to five hundred and thirty million dollars, a record for the year, and for eight years, excepting two months in 1928.

In October we bought from foreigners three hundred and ninety-two million worth of goods.

Business is good, money is cheap. Then, what is the matter with us? Two things—a period of reckless gambling and a wave of hysteria.

Strangest among developments of the late Wall Street cyclone was the drop in prices of bank stocks.

Banks always make money. The people have no intention of getting along without credit, or without money. When times are good they use a great deal of it. When times are bad they need a great deal of it.

Yet the most brilliant and successful banks in New York saw their stocks dwindle in value in the recent panic of fear to an extent that exceeded the drop in any other line of stocks on the list.

Records show that since September the greatest banks in New York have averaged a drop of 52 per cent. in quoted prices of their stocks. This applies to the greatest banks in the world—banks whose stock will have an ultimate value difficult to exaggerate.

And this drop in the price of stocks came in the face of a banking condition not merely absolutely sound, but extraordinarily prosperous and "liquid."

Other countries are puzzled by extraordinary accumulations of gold in the Bank of France. The French have more gold than any country in the world, except this country, and are rapidly approaching us in gold reserves.

There is nothing puzzling about it. The French are marvelously thrifty. Their government is intelligent and determined. What they want they mean to have, and they usually get it.

Charles E. Hughes made a good speech recently, demanding more generous endowment of women's education.

Seven leading women's colleges have not one-tenth the endowment of the seven leading men's colleges.

That is extremely foolish, for the mothers of the human race are at least ten times as important as the fathers.

What women learn they remember and tell to their children. What men learn they forget in business and don't tell anybody.

In September, according to the Travelers Insurance Company, 3,000 were killed in automobile accidents, a new record.

Bad whiskey accounts for some killings, and "joy-riding" carelessness of pedestrians accounts for many more.

Adults should know, children should be taught, that every highway is more dangerous than a railroad, automobiles being more numerous than trains, and just as dangerous.

In old-fashioned war, Switzerland relied on her mountains, her men, all trained soldiers able to use a rifle, and on the fact that it would cost more than it would be worth to conquer her.

But now, with mountains, rivers or water no longer a protecting barrier, Switzerland orders one hundred and five airplanes. Men used to joke about "the Swiss navy." But Switzerland is now on the shore, the air being the real ocean, and she means to have an air fleet.

Uncle Sam, take notice.

For the first time in twenty years, savings bank depositors have dropped, during the past year, savings have diminished by $195,305,000, and the number of depositors by 524,221.

Those that drew their money to buy automobiles, radio sets, vacuum cleaners, electric washing machines, are wise. They get something better than their dollars.

Those that drew out money, safely placed, to speculate in stocks, know now that it is unwise to gamble.

John D. Rockefeller in 1928 spent more than twenty-one million dollars fighting disease all over the world. Diseases start in different parts of the earth and spread everywhere. Yellow fever must be fought in Brazil, Africa, Central America.

Africa is the home of the most deadly typhoid fever, for which, with game, provisions and inexhaustible reserves, sportsmen that kill wild beasts help the human race without knowing it.

B. OF T. HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

NEARLY HUNDRED ENJOY BANQUET. OLD OFFICERS RETURNED.

Tuesday night marked another milestone in the history of Grayling Board of Trade and the occasion was commemorated by a fine large meeting. Nearly 100 were present at the banquet that was delightfully served by the ladies of the Aid society of Michelson Memorial church, at 6:30 p. m.

The menu was as follows: Creamed potatoes, bagas, meat loaf, baked beans, jelly, dill pickles, apple pie, coffee and smokes. The presence of quite a number of visitors added to the pleasantness of the occasion.

President T. W. Hanson was the toastmaster and called upon a number to talk. First he thanked the members of the Board for their fine spirit of cooperation and assistance he had been accorded during the tenure of his office as president. And he was specially appreciative of the manner in which the members of the Board of Directors had backed him up in his work and responded to his requests.

Dr. Bernard W. Carey was the first to be called upon. Dr. Carey recently came to Michigan from Georgia where he conducted a five year health program in that state. Now he is performing a similar work in helping to carry out the wishes of Senator James Couzens in the dissemination of ten million dollars in the interest of Michigan. He explained that seven men had been placed in charge of this fund and that his duties were to take care of the health angle.

This mammoth amount of money must, according to the wishes of Senator Couzens, be spent within 25 years and it must be used wisely and economically. Of course the fund is drawing interest and in order to use it up in the time limit $700,000 must be spent annually. This department is cooperating with the State of Michigan and with the counties in which it is operating. He is being assisted here by Dr. Howard and will also have the assistance of a dentist, three nurses, and a sanitary officer. Here the four counties of Crawford, Roscommon, Kalkaska, and Missaukee will be the unit. Headquarters will be in the court house in Grayling. Between $15,000 and $17,000 will be spent here annually by this organization. Dr. Carey stated that no health program can be successful without the cooperation of the people. The toastmaster assured him that we were at his service.

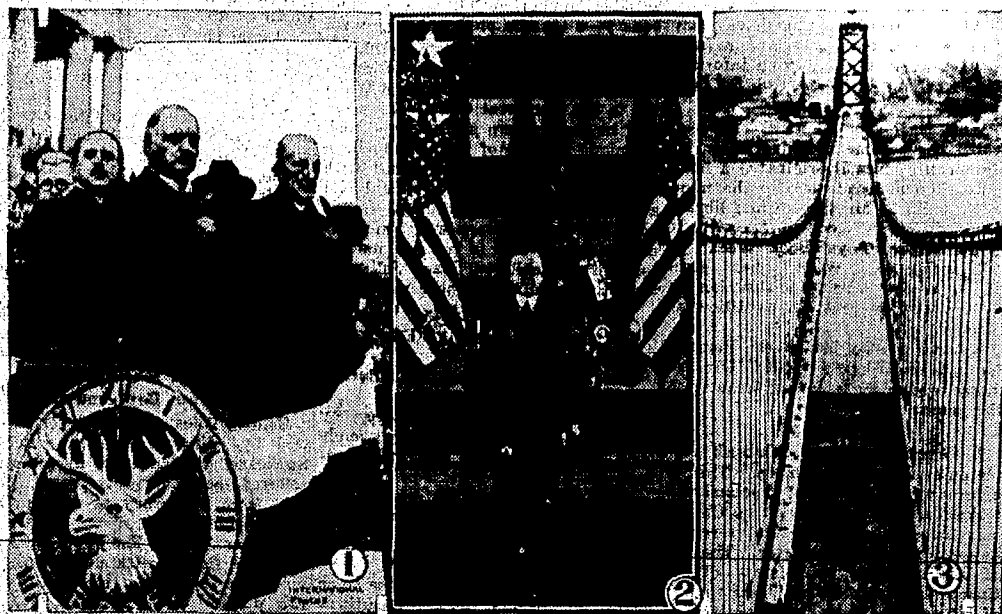

Dr. R. B. Howard who will be the director of the health department for the aforesaid four counties was present and upon introduction took the opportunity to thank the people for the cordial welcome he had been accorded.

Mr. Burridge, a state highway engineer gave a very interesting resume of what the State is doing in the way of road building in this region. He said he was pleased to tell us that they were really going to do something. He apologized for the condition south of Grayling last July when U. S. 27 was hardly fit for travel. He said that he and the Department had realized for a long time that gravel would not stand up under the heavy traffic this road receives when from six to eight thousand vehicles pass over it daily in summer time.

By the time next year, he said, we will be able to travel for 20 miles out of Grayling on pavement. Two asphalt plants, one here and one in Roscommon, will be on the job. These will be conducted by the State Department and a program has been laid out that will build forty miles of 20-foot asphalt pavement. He stated that the results was unable to say just how long of these campaigns of advertising are these roads will stand up but cited well known to the people living in the fact that last summer one of the roads carried 36,000 tons of asphalt over three miles, with loads of from four to five tons per truck, and that the road showed no signs of injury. It is his experience that these roads become smoother with use. The cost amounts to about $18,000 per mile and that next year it is estimated that $720,000 will be spent here. He stated that asphalt used here will have to be imported from the States of Michigan and Wisconsin.

Mr. F. A. Marston, secretary of East Michigan Tourist association and North Eastern Michigan Development Bureau, gave a resume of the advertising that had been carried by these associations this past year. He presented charts showing a reproduction of the advertisements and figures indicating the extent of the circulation they reached. It was all very interesting and showed plainly why these Associations required money to operate. The results were very good and the publicity was able to get the word out to the people living in the resort regions of the State. Mr. Marston kept his audience interested every minute and his remarks were full of wit and wisdom.

T. W. Hanson was strong in his praise of Mr. Marston and of Joe Dermody for the wonderful publicity they had been able to get for Grayling and for their ever willing cooperation whenever they were able to do something for Grayling. He

ACCIDENTAL SHOT KILLS HUNTER

NORMAN LA POINTE KILLED BY COMPANION

Norman LaPointe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Addison LaPointe, of Temperance, near Toledo, was accidentally shot by Theodore Wheeler of Detroit, while hunting near Riverview Saturday morning when a gun in the hands of the latter was accidentally discharged. The young man died almost instantly. He was about 19 years of age.

A party of seven had been hunting near Riverview and, having no success, were about to shift to another location. Before unloading their guns the parties had been testing out their marksmanship by shooting at a target placed upon a stump. Wheeler stood near the stump and after each shot would inspect the score and report it to the shooter. After this the men unloaded their rifles preparatory to entering their autos. Ted was the last one to start unloading. He says he went to the rear of his car where there would be no danger of anyone getting hurt. As he ejected the shells from the magazine of his gun he watched them fall into the grass so as to keep track of them and did not notice LaPointe pass in front of him. Just at that instant the rifle fired and LaPointe was heard to say "Oh!" and fell to the ground.

Realizing that he was seriously injured he was rushed to Grayling Mercy hospital where the doctor stated that he must have died almost instantly. The bullet entered his chest, passing thru his body.

Others in the party, all of whom witnessed the fatal accident, were Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Wheeler, parents of Ted; Detroit; Fred Bromwell of Lake Leelanau; Clifford Fletcher of Detroit; Clifford Trabbie, Temperance; and Otto Peterson, Grayling. LaPointe and Trabbie were pals and came here as guests of Fred Bromwell. LaPointe was a fine accomplished young man and all spoke very highly of him. Of course Ted feels terrible over the affair but nobody is holding him in the least to blame. It broke up the hunting party, most of the members returning home soon thereafter. Addison LaPointe, the father, and an undertaker arrived Sunday morning to get the remains.

read a telegram from Mr. Dermody, who was unable to be here because of sickness, extending best wishes for the success of the chamber of commerce.

Elect Officers and Directors
Upon the close of the meeting pres. T. W. Hanson called a meeting of the Board of Trade when directors for the ensuing term of two years were elected. They are as follows:

C. W. Olsen.
F. R. Welsh.
O. P. Schumann.
Thos. Cassidy.
Dr. C. R. Keyport.

The other directors whose terms continue are:

T. F. Peterson.
M. Hanson.
A. J. Joseph.
C. J. McNamara.

T. W. Hanson.
Immediately after that meeting the Board of Directors met and elected the following officers:

T. W. Hanson, Pres.
Dr. C. R. Keyport, Vice Pres.
A. J. Joseph, Sec. Treas.

During the business session of the Board it was voted to expend $500 this year for advertising. This is to be left with the discretion of the publicity committee with orders to get the matter working soon.

A motion was passed to continue the winter sports, the president to appoint a committee of five to conduct the work.

Also five members will be appointed to provide for the annual Christmas festivities.

It was the consensus of opinion that Grayling should become an incorporated city and a committee was appointed to conduct the negotiations.

SLAUGHTER OF THE INNOCENT

MANY BUCKS AND DOES VICTIMS OF HUNTERS' BULLETS

With the opening of the deer hunting season last week Friday the slaughter of those graceful animals began. But it looks as the nature had provided deer just for sport and for food. It's great sport, no doubt, and it gets men and women out into the woods and the great outdoors which adds health and happiness.

The first to report in town with his license filled was Supervisor Frank Barnett. He had a fine little buck that should provide some fine, tender steaks.

Other local citizens who have filled their licenses that we know of are: A. J. Nelson, Eddie Bugby, Ted Callahan, Maurice Gorman, Mrs. George Olson, George M. Collen, George Schauble, Mrs. David Kneff, Chris Hoelsi, and Arthur Curmala. Also Frank Schmidt of Flint got his deer.

Wardens and others report many does and fawns killed and left in the woods. J. E. Kellogg who resides on the North Branch river stated that 14 dead does and fawns had been brot to his place by game wardens and others. It looks as the some hunters deliberately use these animals for target practice. The woods are full of hunters and bullets seem to be whizzing about in every direction. Many of these hunters are unfamiliar with the correct use of firearms, thus making it unsafe for others.

SCHOOL TO HOLD ART EXHIBIT

The Grayling High School will hold an Art Exhibit, Tuesday evening, Nov. 26th, showing a collection of 148 paintings from the best artists and reproduced in colors.

This exhibit is loaned by the Colonial Art Company and a small admission fee will be charged to cover transportation.

In connection with the Art Exhibit, the High School will hold an "Open Evening" from 6:30 to 9:00 p. m., covering the regular school work of the afternoon session.

All are cordially invited to attend.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

Mrs. Anna Heribson was hostess to the Grayling Woman's Club at its meeting last Monday evening. Following a short business meeting at which civic projects for the new year were discussed, the committee in charge presented an interesting program about three of the various state corrective educational institutions for children.

Because Mrs. Laura Olson was absent her paper on "The State School For Girls At Adrian" was presented by Miss Hunter. Mrs. LaBarge gave a fine picture of the work carried on by the State Vocational Schools For Boys at Lansing, and Mrs. Amy Gothro told of the purpose and work of the State Public School at Coldwater.

Mrs. Heribson will act as hostess for next week's meeting also when the program will be in charge of the drama committee.

DRIVER KILLS LAD INJURES ANOTHER

CLAUDE LA ROCQUE CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Lawrence H. Bell, 14 and brother Otis Bell, 18, both of Gregory, Mich., were run down by an auto Sunday night, the former being killed and latter seriously injured. The driver of the car did not stop to ascertain the seriousness of the accident but drove away hoping to escape responsibility. Claude LaRoque, a well known business man of Roscommon, is charged with the offense.

It appears that the young men had been looking after some traps they had out and were walking back toward Roscommon, taking the left side of the highway, as traffic rules require, when suddenly a car loomed up before them then there was the crash. The younger man was apparently killed instantly. Otis received a broken leg and severe bodily bruises. They were picked up a short time later by Norman Marsh and Walter Soderholm of Roscommon, Otis in a senseless condition. The accident occurred on the county line road near what is known as the "Johnson Swamp".

Officers of both Roscommon and Crawford counties were notified. Sheriff Bohemeyer was accompanied by Prosecuting Attorney Nellist. They visited the scene of the accident and found broken headlight glass in the highway at that place. Investigation and search was made in both counties to discover a car without headlight lenses and suspicion pointed to LaRoque. When asked to explain how he broke his headlights and bent the frames he is reported to have said that he ran into a truck but was unable to tell when and where and by whom the truck was owned.

Otis Bell, who was taken to Mercy Hospital, Grayling, told the officers that they did not see a car coming until it was right upon them when the driver flashed on the lights. It is his belief that the car was running without lights for the highway is straight at that place and they would have been able to see it coming had it been properly lighted.

Intimation is also had that LaRoque had been drinking beer and that he was more or less intoxicated at the time of the accident.

LaRoque was placed under arrest Monday and on Tuesday he appeared before Justice Hans Petersen where he waived examination and was bound over to circuit court for trial in the January term. He was released on $2,000 bonds.

HIGHLY RESPECTED LOVELLS LADY PASSED AWAY

Mrs. Anna Duby, wife of Joseph Duby of Lovells, passed away at Grayling Mercy Hospital Sunday, after a several weeks illness. Mrs. Duby had resided in Lovells for years where she had hosts of friends, who join with the family in their sorrow. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at Michelson Memorial church, with a large assemblage of friends from Lovells in attendance. Rev. Greenwood officiated and appropriate music was rendered by Mr. E. H. Webb and Miss McAllister.

Mrs. Duby was born in Germany, April 8, 1865. She was the mother of Mrs. Nephew of Lovells.

BUILD FIRE LINE AROUND PINES

An auxiliary fire line around the boundaries of the Hartwick Pines State Forest in Crawford County has been completed by the Forest Fire Division of the Department of Conservation.

The fire line was built to protect the most beautiful stand of virgin pine in southern Michigan.

GIRLS TEAM CAN GET NO GAMES

TO CONFINE THEIR BASKET BALL WITHIN SCHOOL CLASSES

There is a lot of disappointed girls in Grayling High because of the fact that they are unable to schedule any games with outside teams this year. Letters were sent out to sixteen schools requesting an exchange of games but all except one reply that they are not scheduling outside games this season.

It seems that girls games with outside schools have become quite in disfavor of late years. A number of reasons are given for this stand on the part of higher school and collegiate authorities, among which is the fact that the games are becoming too strenuous and consequently sometimes impairing to good health.

Grayling's girls team went thru last year with the loss of but one game at Boyne City. The same organization with exception of one player is still intact and, with proper coaching, should be able to win practically every game this year. However, that is now all off and there is a lot of disappointed young ladies as a consequence.

Letters were sent to the following schools:

- East Tawas—Yes.
- Standish—No.
- West Branch—No.
- West Branch, St. Joe—No.
- Houghton Lake—No.
- Gaylord—No.
- Cheboygan—No.
- Mackinaw City—No.
- St. Ignace—No.
- Boys City—No.
- Charlevoix—No.
- Mancelona—No.
- Alpena—No.
- Alba—No.
- Traverse City—No.

Some of the Replies

Following are some of the replies received in answer to the invitation to exchange games:

Charlevoix, Oct. 31, 1929.

Dear Mr. Cushman:

It is with special regret we can not meet your girls in basketball as I was superintendent at Grayling three years and have a homey feeling towards you folks. We do not play girls basketball games at all with neighboring schools as very few seem to maintain that sport among the girls.

Sincerely,

M. OTTERBEIN.

P. S.—I would be glad to have you state my reasons for not playing with your girls.

Grayling, Michigan.

My dear Sir:

In reply to your letter of the 29th instant, I would advise you that we will not play girls' inter-scholastic basketball this year. We will await the outcome of the proposed program as it may be developed in the southern part of Michigan. We will, in the meantime, stress intramural basketball.

Very truly yours,

Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Mr. Cushman:

We have discontinued interscholastic basketball for our high school girls and during the past few years have followed the practice of having class teams only. Our class teams

THIS IS NATIONAL BOOK WEEK

This is National Book Week and in almost every city, town and hamlet all over the land some degree of observance is being given it. This is being specially emphasized by schools and literary clubs with the hope of greater interest and love for books.

Writers all over the world are pouring their best thoughts and language into books for the pleasure and enlightenment of the masses and for their own competence. Artists and publishers are putting these stories and writings into pleasing and convenient form for you and for me and for others who enjoy books. Attractive literature and art productions flood the literary market monthly. Books are provided to meet the taste and the desire of everybody. It is fitting that one week be set aside for the special observance and consideration of books.

That does not mean that one should burst into enthusiasm over books for this one week only but is intended to stimulate book reading generally throughout the year. Books are wonderful companions and true friends. They educate, enlighten and entertain and have a high cultural value. They are the friend of the little tots and of grown-ups and all in-between. Encouragement in more and better book reading should be had in every home. Children should be encouraged in a love for reading and soon this virtue will become a part of their daily living.

Grayling Women's Club have made Book week a part of their program for this week. The following information is submitted by the club for publication:

With November comes Book Week which has become so universal in its significance since it originated a little more than a decade ago in the mind of Franklin K. Matthews, chief librarian of the Boy Scouts of America. It is no longer "Boys' Book Week" or "Children's Book Week," but plain "Book Week," without distinction as to age, sex or previous condition of literacy.

November also brings the demand for lists of books-for-gifts. Here are many fascinating volumes, fresh from the press:

Biography

LaFayette, by Brand Whitlock. Appleton's 2 large volumes. This is biography of the highest type and will make Mr. Any Man radiant on Christmas morning and keep him serenely happy for many days after. The life of LaFayette is the history of his times. He knew all the great figures of his day and they live again for us as we read. LaFayette, running away at 19 to join the insurgent American colonies, is a romantic figure. LaFayette at 73, joggling kings off their thrones and replacing them, is still the gay adventurer—the hero of two worlds. His life-story moves as vividly and dramatically as any novel.

The Life of an Ordinary Woman, by Anne Ellis. I wish I had space and the magic of words to say all that is in my heart to say about this book. I have always thought that if the life of "an ordinary woman" were ever revealed with its toll and tragedy, its joy and wonder, it would surpass anything that has yet been written by or about women. But—women—ah! hoarders and hiders and I feared it could never be sincerely done. Anne Ellis has done it—magnificently. As you read you will discover that she is not an ordinary woman at all but an incorrigible adventurer with an insatiable hunger for life, love and beauty—a bit of a philosopher as well.

Kowtow, by Princess Der Ling. Charming reminiscences of Chinese family life by the first Lady-in-Waiting to the last great Chinese Empress told in the western style. This book is unique because of the cosmopolitan attitude of the author combined with intimate knowledge of Oriental life and manners. A beautifully made book which will please every member of the family and is not too mature for growing children. Many full-page illustrations in the Chinese manner.

The Fine Arts

The Collected Poems of Edwin Arlington Robinson.
The Plays of James M. Barrie. (Complete in one volume).
Genuine Antique Furniture, by Arthur de Bles. Beautifully made book with 400 pages and 200 illustrations.
Home Flower Growing, by Emil C. Volz. 364 pages of flower-lore, profusely illustrated.
Books for the Family
Ageless Youth—a treatise on health and beauty. West. Beautifully made and bound book.
The Shopping Book, William H. Baldwin. Tells the housewife how to get her money's worth when buying house furnishings, textiles, groceries, toilet articles, etc.
About Your Dog, Making Him One of the Family, Robert S. Lemmon.
Religion and Philosophy
In Search of God, John Walker Powell.

The Master, a Life of Jesus Christ, Walter Russell Bowie.
Mysticism and Logic, Bertrand Russell.

The American Scene
Our Times, America Finding Herself, Mark Sullivan.
Frontiers, the Genius of American Nationality, Archer B. Hulbert.
Re-Discovery of America, Waldo Frank. Thought-provoking.

Worthwhile New Novels
A Modern Comedy, John Galsworthy.

Ultima Thule, Henry Handel Richardson. An English masterpiece which has become an American best seller.

Homeplace, Marjorie Chapman. Set in shadow of "Happy Mountain".

Whiteoaks of Jalna, by Maza de la Roche.

Splendor of God, Honore Willis Morrow.

The Galaxy, Susan Ertz.

A Wild Bird, Maud Diver. By the author of "A Lonely Furrow," set in India.

The Merivales, George Barr McCutcheon.

Treadmill, Lola Jean Simpson. Life of a young school teacher.

Books for Boys and Girls
Golden Tales of Our America, edited by May Lamberton Becker. Stories of the America that is past, selected from the best writers. Valuable from a literary as well as historical point of view.

Juniper Green, Mary W. Keyes. Realistic fiction with out-of-door atmosphere, courage, adventure and fair play.

A Girl in Soviet Russia, Andre Viollet. A woman's solitary tour of a strange country, without prejudice or propaganda.

Pioneer Heroes, J. Walker McSpadden. Companion to "Indian Heroes."

The Jumping-Off Place, Marian H. McNeely. Pioneering courage and perseverance in the Dakotas.

Courageous Companions, Charles J. Finger. A beautifully made book based upon Magellan's Cruise.

The Joyous Pretender, Louise Ayers Garnett.

For the Tiny Tots
The Book of Animal Tales, Stephen Southwold. Beautifully illustrated.

The Tangle-Coated Horse, by Ella Young. Illustrated by Vera Bock.

Wonder Tales From Fairy Isles, Frances Jenkins Olcott.

The Farm Twins, Lucy Fitch Perkins. Delightful.

The Pony Tree, Charlotte Brate. Easy illustrated story, good choice for young children.

Seven Books For Little Folks, by Ethel and Frank Owen, pictures by Margaret Temple. Light enough for the baby's hands and altogether lovely.

THE REPORT CARD

(By Grayling Public Schools)

Grayling Debaters Defeated At Alpena

Grayling High's negative debate team went to Alpena Friday afternoon in the heat of spirits filled with confidence in themselves and expecting to trim Alpena. Instead, Alpena turned the tables and won by a decision 2-1. The Grayling team returned with its spirits considerably lowered, nevertheless taking its defeat in the true spirit of G.H.S.

Taken as a whole, the debate was good, and the Grayling debaters did very well, considering the fact that the odds were against them, being away from home and against a school three times the size of ours. The negative team were: Mary Mahneke, Margaret Warren, and Thorwald Sorenson. Mary Esther Schumann acted as timekeeper for Grayling. The judges were three women from Rogers City High School.

Those accompanying the team to Alpena were Mr. Hill, coach; Nels Olson, Elizabeth Matson, Brad Jarmin, and Jerome Kessler. Fred Alexander drove the team, and Jack Calahan drove the others in his car.

Although Grayling lost, its first negative debate, the team is enthusiastic over the next one with Standish on Dec. 6, and of course expect to win.

Seniors Present First Assembly
A regular program of assemblies has again been started. The seniors presented the first one on Monday Nov. 18, at 1:00 o'clock with the following program:

1. Piano duet—Margaret Warren, Elizabeth Matson.
2. Reading—Tressa Vallad.
3. Saxophone solo—Elizabeth Matson; accompanist—Margaret Warren.
4. Playlet—Dorothy Hoelsi, Joseph Kessler.
5. Girls Sextette—Clara Bugby, Grace Parker, Tressa Vallad, Mary Esther Schumann, Elizabeth Matson, Margaret Warren.
6. Boys Octette—Arthur May, Thorwald Sorenson, Gordon Pond, Devere Schmidt, Marshall Sisco, Arthur Williams, Donald Emery and Joseph Kessler.

The program was of great interest to all, Tressa Vallad's reading in negro dialect being especially fine.

Persons
Mrs. Gorman was absent Monday and Tuesday because of illness.

Quite a number of the boys are out deer hunting this week. As yet only one has reported any luck, Art Curialine being the lucky one.

The Seniors had two visitors at their assembly Monday afternoon, Martha Bidia and Mrs. Oliver Shoemaker. Students will probably remember the latter as Gertrude Wakeley, a pupil at Grayling High a couple of years ago.

Marie Mallinger was absent a couple of days last week.

Dorothy Hoelsi has a temporary job assisting Miss Hildebrand in the afternoons with the fifth grade work.

Jokes
Miss Estee—You weren't to school

yesterday were you?

Teeter—No, I slept at home.

Marg. W.—I play the piano to kill time.

Brad—You certainly have a fine weapon.

June K.—Some men thirst after fame, some after money, some after love.

Joe B.—I know something all that after.

J. K.—What's that?

Joe—Salt herring.

Nels—Why are you wearing glasses?

Mary—Oh I have contracted an optical defect, one eye travels vertically and the other horizontally.

You see, I've worked so many crossword puzzles.

Jean T.—I've just heard the most awful piece of scandal.

Lura E.—I thought you did, you looked so happy when you came in.

Grade Activities
Miss Arnold's first graders have written an original story and are illustrating it. The name of it is "Wee Winnie Witch."

Margaret Flagg had the misfortune to be hurt quite badly last Thursday when she ran into the path of a car near the schoolhouse. To prevent another such accident the first graders are having a campaign among themselves on keeping off the road around school.

Miss Hermann's fourth graders have their store all stocked now and are shopping once a week. They are also giving a Thanksgiving play entitled "The First Thanksgiving."

Their guests will be the other fourth grade, Miss Shambaugh's room.

The little people are writing book reviews for Book Week soon, and every grade room they are also raising money to buy new books for the school library.

Ladies high tops at Olson's at $5.50.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. McCullough are leaving the first of next week for Petersburg, Virginia, to spend the winter months.

J. W. Randolph has rented one of his cottages at Lake Margrethe to Mr. John Holze and a party of friends from Leslie for the hunting season.

Miss Kathryn Brown entertained her Sunday school last Friday evening by giving a popcorn roast at the Michelson Memorial church parlors.

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving and the Avalanche Office will be closed that day. Those having matter for publication kindly send it in a day earlier than usual.

The funeral of Mrs. John Rasmusson of Johannesburg, a former old resident of Grayling who passed away at Mercy Hospital Sunday following a long illness, was held Wednesday afternoon here. Services were held at Danish-Lutheran church with Rev. Kjolhede in charge, and there was a large number of old friends of the family in attendance. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

Grayling High's negative debate team went to Alpena Friday afternoon in the heat of spirits filled with confidence in themselves and expecting to trim Alpena. Instead, Alpena turned the tables and won by a decision 2-1. The Grayling team returned with its spirits considerably lowered, nevertheless taking its defeat in the true spirit of G.H.S.

Taken as a whole, the debate was good, and the Grayling debaters did very well, considering the fact that the odds were against them, being away from home and against a school three times the size of ours. The negative team were: Mary Mahneke, Margaret Warren, and Thorwald Sorenson. Mary Esther Schumann acted as timekeeper for Grayling. The judges were three women from Rogers City High School.

Those accompanying the team to Alpena were Mr. Hill, coach; Nels Olson, Elizabeth Matson, Brad Jarmin, and Jerome Kessler. Fred Alexander drove the team, and Jack Calahan drove the others in his car.

Although Grayling lost, its first negative debate, the team is enthusiastic over the next one with Standish on Dec. 6, and of course expect to win.

Seniors Present First Assembly
A regular program of assemblies has again been started. The seniors presented the first one on Monday Nov. 18, at 1:00 o'clock with the following program:

1. Piano duet—Margaret Warren, Elizabeth Matson.
2. Reading—Tressa Vallad.
3. Saxophone solo—Elizabeth Matson; accompanist—Margaret Warren.
4. Playlet—Dorothy Hoelsi, Joseph Kessler.
5. Girls Sextette—Clara Bugby, Grace Parker, Tressa Vallad, Mary Esther Schumann, Elizabeth Matson, Margaret Warren.
6. Boys Octette—Arthur May, Thorwald Sorenson, Gordon Pond, Devere Schmidt, Marshall Sisco, Arthur Williams, Donald Emery and Joseph Kessler.

The program was of great interest to all, Tressa Vallad's reading in negro dialect being especially fine.

Persons
Mrs. Gorman was absent Monday and Tuesday because of illness.

Quite a number of the boys are out deer hunting this week. As yet only one has reported any luck, Art Curialine being the lucky one.

The Seniors had two visitors at their assembly Monday afternoon, Martha Bidia and Mrs. Oliver Shoemaker. Students will probably remember the latter as Gertrude Wakeley, a pupil at Grayling High a couple of years ago.

Marie Mallinger was absent a couple of days last week.

Dorothy Hoelsi has a temporary job assisting Miss Hildebrand in the afternoons with the fifth grade work.

Jokes
Miss Estee—You weren't to school

yesterday were you?

Teeter—No, I slept at home.

Marg. W.—I play the piano to kill time.

Brad—You certainly have a fine weapon.

June K.—Some men thirst after fame, some after money, some after love.

Joe B.—I know something all that after.

J. K.—What's that?

Joe—Salt herring.

Nels—Why are you wearing glasses?

Mary—Oh I have contracted an optical defect, one eye travels vertically and the other horizontally.

It's time to CHANGE to winter grades

WINTER is near

Is your car ready? Three steps are necessary to put your car in shape to meet the heavy demands of cold weather driving.

1—Change the lubricant in the differential and transmission, using Polarine Transmission Oil (Winter) or Iso-Vis Lubricant (B).

2—Have the chassis thoroughly greased.

3—Flush the crankcase with Polarine Flushing Oil and refill with winter grade of either Iso-Vis or Polarine recommended for your car.

These three steps are vital to the good conduct and smooth operation of your car this winter.

Iso-Vis and Polarine meet every winter need. They maintain their viscosity and lubricate thoroughly at any operating temperature. They're highly refined and scientifically correct for all motors.

If you use Polarine—drain the crankcase every 500 miles for maximum efficiency and economy. If you use Iso-Vis, the constant viscosity oil—you can drive a thousand miles or more without changing, for Iso-Vis wears and wears and wears.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES
OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO.

Thursday, November 15, 1906

Over 100 hunters licenses have been issued in this county already.

Salling, Hanson & Co., have a bulletin board in front of their office calling for 25 men to work in the woods. Everybody is busy at good wages.

Mrs. Geo. Langevin has been very ill for the past ten days with a bad cold.

R. Hanson, N. Michelson, Eabern Hanson and Nels Olson are in Florida looking over pine forests.

Mrs. Lillie Robinson, of Duluth, came last week for a month's visit with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Sherwood.

Mrs. H. Moon of Beaver Creek, returned last week from a pleasant visit with her daughter, and is now enjoying a visit from her father and mother from Detroit.

Kanute Smith aged 61 years, died at his home near Hardgrove, Monday. His body was brought here for burial yesterday. He will be remembered by many of our older citizens as he was a resident here for several years.

Fred Alexander is home from the R. R. office in Grand Rapids, for recreation and rest. The confinement in the office was a little too much and he thought best to take a little vacation before he had to, and of course could put in the time here with old friends with pleasure.

It is estimated that nearly 10,000 hunters are now in the Upper Peninsula after deer, over 400 having gone from Detroit, and that at least 2,000 more are in the lower peninsula north of the Saginaw valley. There are probably fifty who have gone into the woods from here, besides our home people. 15 hunters have already been killed and 22 seriously wounded in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stannard went to their old home near Flint, Tuesday. They were called there by the illness of her brother, but late advice report that he is better.

Mr. Irving Johnson of Ingham county is among our visiting hunters. He will go with Otto McIntyre, which insures his getting some game.

We are wondering if they had an election in Otsego Co. last week. We have looked the Gaylord Herald over and over and do not find a word referring to it. They must have gone into their winter's sleep.

School Notes

Mr. Bradley has arranged a weekly program for the night school. This arrangement gives us forty-five minutes for the majority of our classes. It is going to be popular.

Miss Ohlson is with us again after two days illness.

Nettie Milliken and Van Dean, are again in school after a week's absence.

Secretary Bates was a welcome visitor this week. This makes his second visit this month. Thanks. Make it three next month.

Thursday, November 22, 1906

Mrs. John Hanna of Beaver Creek is reported seriously ill.

Clark Harder of Durand, is visiting his uncle, Elmer Batterson. He was born here twenty-two years ago, and is the son of Charles Harder, who will be remembered by our older citizens, and a grandson of Judge Batterson of Frederic.

The Northern Michigan Press Club is a fixed fact. The organization was completed at Cadillac, the 16 and 17 inst., with R. D. Frederick, of the Sherman Pioneer, President; J. M. Terwilliger, Cadillac Globe, Vice President and F. L. Evans, Secretary and Treasurer. The next meeting will be held at Traverse City in April.

N. P. Olson returned from his trip to Florida Sunday morning, reporting an enjoyable time, except for cold, following a two inch fall of snow, in that state. Messrs. Hansons, and Michelson came with him to Chateaugua, Tenn., but returned to Florida for a few days longer stay. He brought with him some wonderfully beautiful specimens of Florida pine, and is enthusiastic over the timber wealth in that state.

The 15 year old son of telegraph operator Shaw killed a deer Tuesday between the village and electric power house. He fired four times before the deer lay down, and as the boy approached, he sprang at him for a fight. Shaw picked up a small fence-post and thought he had him knocked out, but as he went to cut his throat the deer threw him about 20 feet, but it was his death struggle. The animal dressed over 200 pounds.

Frederic News

Mrs. Alta Tompkins, while coming from church last Sunday, was shot in the face by some boys who had nothing to do but break the Sabbath day by shooting down the road to amuse themselves.

Mrs. Inglis is entertaining her sister and other relatives from Holly this week.

F. Burgess of the county seat visited his sister, Mrs. J. Inglis Sunday night.

About thirty-five of the friends of Lizzie McCracken remembered her birthday by kindly remembrances.

Grandma Barber returned from Vanderbilt Monday.

HEALTH PRESERVATION IS AIM OF RED CROSS

Society Employs Rural Public Health Nurses—Teaches First Aid and Life Saving.

A comprehensive, nation-wide program to prevent illness, and to save lives through proper nursing care and advanced methods of life saving and first aid is fostered by the American Red Cross.

The organization is the largest employer of rural public health nurses in the United States, through its Chapters. The policy of the Red Cross is to encourage its Chapters to extend the public health nursing service, where leadership in this field is not taken by some other agency in the community.

The Red Cross health and life saving campaign embraces the following: preservation of health through skilled nursing care, prevention of loss of life in accidents, prevention of illness through cleanliness in the home and knowledge of methods of home care of the sick and raising the standard of health and physical efficiency through proper nutrition.

During the year just closed, more than 42,000 certificates have been issued in the Red Cross course in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, and since the course was inaugurated more than 600,000 persons have been taught; 149,000 children were instructed in proper eating through the Nutrition course; 45,898 individuals passed the severe Red Cross tests in Life Saving and 52,596 persons passed the rigid examinations in the First Aid Course.

This work is supported from funds obtained in the annual Roll Call, Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, November 11 to 25.

SIX MILLION CHILDREN IN JUNIOR RED CROSS

The year 1929 marks the tenth anniversary of the founding of the American Junior Red Cross. There are now Junior Red Cross societies in forty-one nations, all pledged in the common cause of service to their fellows.

Membership in the American Junior Red Cross in the United States and insular possessions is 5,878,000, and is largely through grade and high schools and private schools. The organization is governed by the boys and girls. One of its chief features is conduct of international correspondence with schools of other nations, through exchange of albums and small gifts. The American Juniors sent 55,000 Christmas boxes of small gifts to children of many nations last year.

The American Junior Red Cross gained 349,171 in membership last year.

Fifty-one nations belong to the League of Red Cross Societies, and are prepared to carry on health, disaster relief and life saving programs all around the world.

"Doctor, do you think my husband will get well?"
"Sure, all he needs is a little rest. You'd better go away for about two weeks."

WOULD DO FOR TWO

Friend—My, you'll have clothes enough for two brides.
Modern Bride—Well, maybe I can make them last for two bridegrooms then.

WHAT SHE WANTED

Timid Suitor—I'm afraid you'd starve if you married me.
Anxious Deb—That's true—I'm reducing anyway!

HEARD OF WASHINGTON

"Say, you don't know a thing about history? Did you ever hear of Washington?"
"Sure I have—it's the Capital of the United States."

VERY GULLIBLE

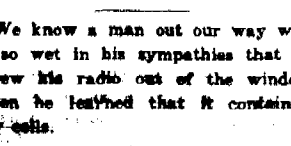

Daughter—At least there's one thing about George, mother—he believes in himself.
Mother—George is very gullible, my dear.

LUCKY FOR HIM

Visiting Artist—Yes, I'm selling my pictures very readily, but you people don't know good pictures from bad.
Miss Vera Frank (a native)—Isn't that rather lucky for you?

Marks Birthplace of Father of Locomotive

At Wyalapa, on the north bank of the River Type, under the auspices of the Institutions of Shipbuilders and Mechanical Engineers, a tablet commemorates the birthplace of a man who achieved the seemingly impossible, George Stephenson, the father of the steam locomotive engine. Past the front of his cottage, within a few yards of the door, heavily laden and light trains of coal trucks pass today, as did the tiny chaffin wagons drawn by horses along plume-ways 150 years ago. The cottage itself is a two-story house, typical of many of those built years ago by the colliery owners for their employees. It was divided into four rooms, in each of which a different family dwelt. The lower room at the western side of the cottage was the home of the Stephenson family, and it was in this room, which served for sleeping, eating and shelter, that George, the second son of a family of four boys and two girls, was born on June 9, 1781. "Old Bob," George Stephenson's father, was a Scotsman who crossed the border as a gentleman's servant, and then married a local lassie, Isabel Carr, the daughter of a dray. "Bob" found work as a fireman of the pumping engine of the Wyalapa colliery at 12 shillings (£3) per week.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Found He Had Financed

Small "Deal" in Rabbit

Some Saturday night snuff-snuff asked his father for a quarter to buy a rabbit. On being satisfied that a but was being fixed up in which to keep the rabbit, and being also a believer in the civilizing influence on boys of keeping pets, dad gave him a quarter.

The following Saturday a second youngster came on the same errand, and obtained a quarter. "It happened to be a large family, and not wishing to display any favoritism, dad eventually gave a quarter to each of his children for the purchase of a rabbit.

One day he went out to see all these rabbits and was surprised to find only one! He inquired of his children what they had all done with their quarters. Each declared that he or she had bought a rabbit. "Well, where are they then?" he demanded.
"Why, dad," explained one of his youngsters, "it was the same rabbit; we bought it from each other."—Exchange.

Forest "Conversations"

A well-known western Canadian guide, born and bred in the great wide open, has given some intelligent observations of the ways of the four-footed inhabitants of the woods, and he sincerely believes that the lower animals have a far more intelligent communication with each other than can be explained at present. He believes that radio will eventually solve the question and be the means of interpreting the animal messages, and he hopes to prove shortly that animals utilize wave lengths outside of the range of the human ear. The cow moose will convey her call or deer her fawn and tell it in animal language not to stray and the little fellow never disobeys its parent. Also the youngster can in some way communicate with its mother in time of danger without uttering a sound or leaving the spot.

On Diet to Conquer Air

"Live on air to conquer the air," was the slogan of a certain school of flying originating with the Taoists of China and also followed by air-minded ancients of early India. This school believed that levitation could be brought about if starvation of sufficient length to lighten the body were practiced rigidly, says Dr. Berthold Laufer, curator of anthropology in the Field Museum of Natural History at Chicago. In his book, "The Preliminary of Aviation," The application of internal remedies to fly was also a Taoist idea. A "flying elixir" compounded by Tao-Hung-King, physician of the Fifth century, consisted of mixed gold, cinchabar, azurite and sulphur.

Spruce Spikes as Rivals

The spruce tree has a penchant for symmetrical lines which causes it to go through an annual contest if, by some mishap, the topmost spike is broken off. When this happens all of the spikes leading out to the side from the joint at which the upstanding spike was attached begin to curve upward.

This continues for some time with each apparently endeavoring to be the "king branch." Eventually one attains this rank, and the others almost immediately begin to droop and resume their former lateral positions.

Who's to Blame?

A leading medical journal announces that Americans are moribund over vitamins, periodic medical examinations, dietetic systems, rohypnol, therapeutic dogmas and health "isms," and figuratively calls them a "jotta bunk." Well, who started us that way if it wasn't the medical?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Consider the Minutes

Minutes are given an ex-novo. Every man gets exactly the same number. How we employ their determination largely our success or failure in life. Remember, therefore, that he who "kills time" often murders opportunity.—Grit.

Nowadays when a man informs you his wife is starving you can't be sure whether he is asking you for money or telling you about the latest dieting craze.

MAKING PEOPLE HAPPY

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Peter Victorious, in O. R. Hainnag's novel of that name, is pursuing his little head, as "Baby of an older people have often done, over the purpose of living. I am sure that in some more serious moment a question has occurred to me, why we are here and what life is all about. There were many myriads within him, strange longings took possession of him, revolt from things as they are disturbed his soul. Making people happy—that was the best thing in the world that anyone could do, he finally concluded. He had found a reason for living, and never again did the road seem so rough or so unceasing. He knew now what it was all about.

It is rather a selfish world in which we live, and far be it from me to claim that selfishness is always to be condemned. Self-seeking has resulted often in great accomplishment, great inventions, great progress and reforms. But selfishness seldom brings happiness either to the self-seeker or to his associates.

There is a great satisfaction in making other people happy. The happiest people I have ever known are those who have made sacrifices for other people who have given up what they themselves most wanted in order that they might contribute to the comfort and happiness of others. Peter Victorious was not so far wrong after all. One has not lived in vain if he devotes himself to making people happy.

Frank Wiskus, an American lieutenant, was crowned king of the island of Gonave, a little unnamed island off Haiti, so W. E. Scarborough tells us in his Magic Island. There were a number of reasons, perhaps which led to this exaltation of an inexperienced and rather ordinary citizen, but the chief reason as I read the story was that, despite as he was in fact, and god as the natives sometimes thought him, it was largely because he did his best to make his subjects happy that made him really king of Gonave. He rebuilt the base of Jules Narcelle's engine, almost with his own hands; he brought in blooded hogs as a substitute for the scrawny stunted razor-backs with which the island was infested; he brought in a new variety of melons; he sent an old peasant woman across the mountains quite against her will to submit to an operation for entreaties and brought her back smiling and thinking Wiskus was himself. No wonder they made him king, for he spent his time in making his subjects happy.

The story is told by Sir James Barrie that when the boy's mother was ill because of the death of another son, the doctor said to James, "Try to make your mother laugh; it will do her more good than medicine." He did his best, and when the doctor came back the next day, the boy had a long string of black marks to show how many times he had been successful in making his mother laugh, and all these years since his mother, never beloved a young play writer and story teller, has been doing his best to make people happy. ONE LITTLE CLOUD

Said ONE Little Cloud in a blue, blue sky: "What can I ever do in the world to help?"

Said Lazy South Wind: "You can't do much but float around."

"That's just what I thought," answered ONE Little Cloud.

Said Smiling West Wind: "But you can always look pretty and cheerful."

"Do you really think so?" asked ONE Little Cloud.

Said Gruff Old North Wind: "In winter, I'll wager you'll cover the earth with snow. That will be something."

"My! could I?" exclaimed ONE Little Cloud.

Then spoke up Sharp East Wind briskly:

"Come, ONE Little Cloud and join the rest.

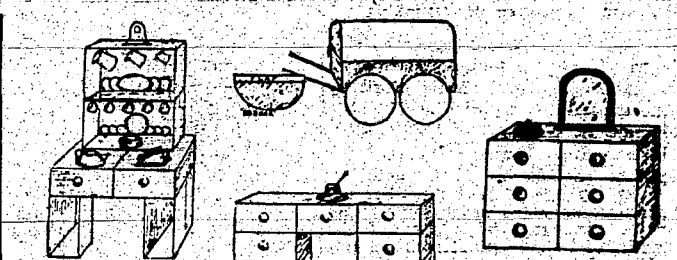

You'll find together you'll do your best."

Then he hurried ONE Little Cloud better skelter through the blue, blue sky, and before ONE Little Cloud knew it she was surrounded by hundreds of other, white clouds. "Now," said Sharp East Wind.

"If you will join each cloud by hand, you'll form a mighty useful band."

"Are you sure," asked ONE Little Cloud.

"Quite sure," answered Sharp East Wind. Then ONE Little Cloud joined hands with another white cloud; that little cloud with still another cloud, and so on, and so on, until there

TOYS FROM MATCH BOXES

Here's a jolly way to spend an evening. Take as many small match boxes as you can and from the pictures, make the furniture for your own or a friend's doll house. For the car, one box is used, the inside for the car body, the outside to make the wheels. A piece of paper pasted over will make a small covered wagon. For the chair, loomed in the blue sky an enormous shadow. ONE Little Cloud was swept along by a mighty force.

"Come, come along, hurry!" shouted Sharp East Wind.

"There's much to do, before I'm through with you."

"I wonder what it is," thought ONE Little Cloud.

He did not, however, have long to wait, for suddenly Sharp East Wind blew a terrible gale. Every little cloud quivered. And shivered! And how their tears did fall!

"People on earth said, 'Ah! A hard rain! How it pours!' and every little cloud felt much better after that, to say nothing of ONE Little Cloud in gladness.

And on the earth beneath, the seeds sprouted, the grass grew green, the flower buds swelled and everything was grateful.

He'll Be a Long Time Paying His Bet

Forrest F. Cole, Dallas, Texas, a supporter of the Chicago Cubs, agreed to bat a ball from Dallas to Philadelphia if the Cubs lost the world's series. He made the wager with Ernest Luttrell, a neighbor, who goes along to see that the terms of the wager are fulfilled. Cole is not to pick up the ball, but bat it along the highway golf fashion. At the end of every day Luttrell marks the spot where the ball was stopped and they carry on from there the next day.

New World Was Rather Cold to Them

Frantisek and Anna Mrza, aged eight and ten, arrived bag and baggage in the New world of which they had dreamed for weeks, only to find that their father was not at the dock in New York to meet them as arranged. When Mother Mrza died several years ago back in Czechoslovakia, little Frantisek and Anna went to live with their grandparents in a village near Prague. Their father, John Mrza, came to America to make a new home for them, and settled in Endicott, N. Y., where he married again. The children were cared for by the Travelers' Aid Society.

One half of the world doesn't know how the other half lives but is convinced anyhow that the other half can't afford to live the way it does.

FARM HELPS

Ewes should be gaining weight when they are bred. Stubble and stalk fields, fence strips in plowed fields, late pastures, green-rye pasture in late fall, and, in the South, velvet beans, are all useful in carrying bred ewes through the fall and into the winter. Silage and root crops are good feeds, but should not be given when the pasturage is soft and watery.

After the truck crops are all out of the garden, it is a good plan to remove all vines, dead plants, and other trash and sow the ground to rye or some other green crop. This will prevent the earth from washing and improve the condition of the soil. If the ground is not sown to a crop, and there is no danger of washing, it is well to plow or spade it and let it lie through the winter. Freezing will kill many insects as well as lighten the soil by alternate freezing and thawing.

The cowpeas succeed under so many different conditions that it is valuable in almost any system of rotation as a catch crop or for hay or seed production. Although in the Cotton Belt cowpeas are often stored until winter before threshing or hulling them, it is probably better to thresh or hull them when thoroughly dry, and reclean and store them in sacks.

WOMEN KNIT AND SEW FOR RED CROSS RELIEF

Volunteers Aid Through Motor and Canteen Corps—Send Gifts to Service Men.

Recalling the days of the World War, many women still make pajamas and other hospital garments. Many knit sweaters, and more than 2,500,000 surgical dressings were rolled by volunteer workers for the American Red Cross Chapters all over the nation, in the year just closed.

The hospital garments are given to veterans and the surgical dressings go to civilian or Veterans' Bureau hospitals, or wherever needed. Many Chapters also maintain well stocked closets of surgical dressings and garments, in order to be prepared should a disaster strike their communities.

Volunteer workers make children's clothing and layettes which are distributed in time of major catastrophes. The Motor Corps of Red Cross women and the Canteen Service, also first created during the World War, still are maintained by many Red Cross Chapters. Last year the various Motor Corps, some with ambulances, answered about 30,000 calls, and the Canteens served more than 20,000 persons. They were especially active where floods or forest fires or other catastrophes called for feeding refugees or firemen engaged in active work fighting disaster.

Another activity of women volunteers is that of filling Christmas bags—small cretonne ditty bags—to send to soldiers and sailors who are stationed at posts or ports abroad. More than 40,000 of these are sent each year for distribution to the Americans at Christmas time.

CHURCHMEN ASK SUPPORT OF RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Leading churchmen of the nation have joined in asking public support of the annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross. Two distinguished leaders who have sent messages to their congregations all over the country are quoted as follows:

"I plead for an extension of our Red Cross membership until we can call a roll of every American," stated the Most Reverend Michael J. Curley, Archbishop of Baltimore. "I would like to see the children listed in the organization by their parents. I plead for it because of the spiritual reaction I visualize in our millions of contributing members."

"As president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, I bespeak for the Roll Call of the American Red Cross the fullest cooperation of all the churches in the constituency of the Council," writes Francis J. McConnell, president of the Federal Council. "I cannot imagine that there is any minister who will not be grateful for the opportunity to call the attention of his people to the work of the Red Cross and to urge them to enroll in its membership."

The American Red Cross expended $2,669,627.24 in disaster relief work in the United States and its insular possessions and in eleven other countries during the year ending June 30, 1929.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS PRINT BOOKS FOR BLIND

One of the most appealing services that is carried forward by women volunteers under the American Red Cross is that of transcribing popular and scientific books into Braille for reading by the blind. This work was started at Evergreen hospital, where blind veterans of the World War were sent after the Armistice.

The Red Cross now has 1,155 volunteer Braille transcribers, and last year they produced 442 titles in 1,849 volumes, or 175,000 pages of Braille. The majority of the books go to the Library of Congress and public libraries throughout the country, although some of the books go to schools for the blind and, in a few instances, text books are transcribed for some individual scholar in order to help him complete his course in some study.

The work is supported from the Red Cross Roll Call for members which occurs each year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

AIRPLANES DROP TONS OF FOOD DURING FLOOD

Army, Navy and Alabama National Guard airplanes delivered twenty-five tons of supplies furnished by the American Red Cross to flood refugees who were completely cut off from any other aid, during the serious floods in four southeastern States early this spring.

The three services made an average of fifty flights a day, delivering medicine, food, clothing and blankets. Most of the supplies were dropped to the refugees who were isolated on hill tops and high ground, by the flood waters.

Naval aviators made a total of 115 flights during the flood period, embracing 15,000 miles. Observation planes also reported by radio where marooned refugees could be located, and a magnificent program of co-operation with the Red Cross relief forces was carried forward by all three aviation services.

Pontiac Lady Finds Health Thru Konjola

Lady Surprised and Delighted at Quick Results Obtained From Master Medicine

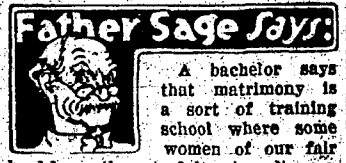

MRS. FANNIE E. GLENNY

"It is a serious matter to be sick—not to be able to meet each day's duties happily. All should profit by the experience of others as did Mrs. Fannie E. Glenn, 108 South Rose-lawn Drive, Pontiac, Mich., who praises Konjola in this fashion: "At my age of 72 I felt that my nervousness would never come to an end. My sister, who knew of the merits of Konjola, insisted that I give this new medicine a trial. I was somewhat doubtful at first, but I noticed an improvement with the first bottle. My appetite increased and I was able to sleep better at night. This was a surprise to me. Six bottles of Konjola have given me the relief I have tried so long to find. Now I am able to do my own housework again. Konjola certainly is a wonderful medicine."

Konjola is sold in Grayling at the Mac & Gladye drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit John Diekema of Holland, Mich., as they sailed from New York for their new home in Holland, Europe, where Mr. Diekema will serve as American minister to the Netherlands.

THAT APPETIZING CHILL

There are chills and chills. No woman likes to have another person chill her with a look or a few choice words, but the chill that comes from eating a cold, refreshing dessert on a torrid day is quite something else again—a thing almost too welcome to express in words. Everyone goes in for cold desserts or frozen desserts in the hot summer, and even in the chilly days of fall and winter, the cold dessert remains in vogue, whether it be for the family meal one of the many parties which come along at that time.

For Teas and Suppers

For afternoon teas, the sherbet is the accepted dessert. But just any sherbet won't do; there must be something just a little unusual about it—something to give a flip. And for the buffet suppers which start with Halloween and continue until after New Year's, there are any number of really scrumptious desserts which can be made ahead of time and put in the refrigerator to keep cool until the appointed time comes to serve them to appreciative guests.

The recipes which follow are planned for eight persons and were originated and have been tested by a trained dietitian.

Cherry Ice: Press the juice and fruit from three-fourths of a number 2 can of red pitted cherries through a sieve. Boil three-fourths cup sugar, one and one-half cups water and three tablespoons corn syrup until the syrup threads, then pour it sourly over one stiffly beaten egg white. Add three tablespoons of lemon juice, two tablespoons of maraschino cherry juice and the mashed cherries. Freeze as any ice cream.

Frozen Raspberries: Mash the fruit from a number 2 can of red raspberries and mix with the syrup, discarding none of the pulpy part. Add the juice of one lemon, one-half cup of sugar and one and one-half cups of water and bring to boiling to melt the sugar. Cool. Freeze, using three parts ice to one part salt.

Coffee Coconut Cream: Soak three-fourths tablespoon gelatin in cold water. Make a custard of one egg yolk, one-half cup of brown sugar and three-fourths cup strong hot coffee. Add one teaspoon butter, pour over the gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool. When the gelatin begins to set, fold in one stiffly beaten egg white, one-half cup heavy cream, whipped, and one can of moist coconut. Serve very cold piled in glasses with whipped cream on top.

Fruity Duddings

Scandinavian Pudding: Remove stones from the fresh or Oregon prunes in a number 3 can. Cut pulp in pieces and return to the syrup. Add one-third cup of sugar, one-fourth teaspoon of cloves and one-fourth teaspoon of cinnamon, and simmer five minutes. Mix one-third cup cornstarch with one-half cup orange juice, add to hot mixture and cook in double boiler, stirring constantly until the mixture is thick and smooth. Cool slightly, add one-half cup chopped nuts, and fold in two stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into wet molds and chill. Serve with whipped cream or custard sauce.

Fig Tapioca: Soak one-half cup pearl tapioca over night in cold water. In the morning drain off any water which has not been absorbed. Scald one and one-third cups milk in double boiler, add the tapioca and cook twenty minutes or until transparent. Add two slightly beaten egg yolks and one-fourth cup brown sugar and cook until thick. Then add chopped figs from an eight-ounce can and let cook a few minutes longer. Cool slightly, then fold in two stiffly beaten egg whites. Serve cold.

An Emergency Dessert

Jiffy Dessert: This is for emergencies. For ingredients you need some saltines, a can of chocolate syrup, whipped cream (or marshmallow creme), and a can of moist coconut. Allow three saltines to each serving. Spread them liberally with the chocolate syrup, piling one on top of the other. Top with whipped cream (or marshmallow creme) and sprinkle generously with the coconut.

Peach Hard Sauce: Cream one-third cup of butter, one cup confectioner's sugar, one-fourth teaspoon vanilla and two-thirds cup diced and drained (or canned crushed) peaches. Chill. Serve on hot puddings or on pastries.

OTTO MILLER THE BANKRUPT STOCK STORE

This is to let our friends know that I have closed my store in Grayling and to thank them for the patronage we received while in business here. I was a stranger in Grayling, still I had a fine patronage. I have a store in Cadillac and winter time makes it difficult to operate both places—that is why I closed my store here.

Now you know me and when I return next Spring I won't be a stranger. I will have a fine stock of wearing apparel for young and old, and hope to find my customers awaiting me.

Look for me next Spring.
